EUCCHARISTIC REVIVAL (11)
DO THIS IN MEMORY OF ME!

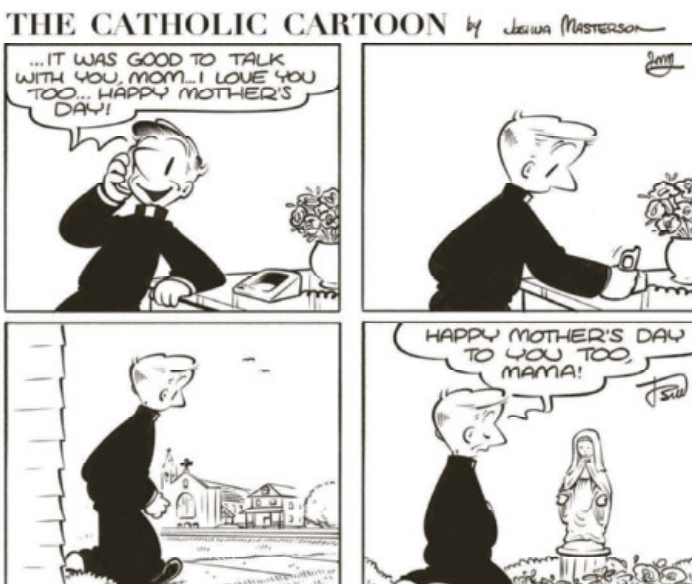

The above exclamation is our English translation of the command Jesus gave to his apostles at the Last Supper. We need to recognize that the ordinary meaning of our English words, “in memory of,” fall far short of conveying the full meaning of the original Hebrew words which referred to the Passover event in the Book of Exodus, (cf. Ex 13:3). When we hear, “in memory of,” we generally think of a meaning like, “remember,” “call to mind” and “imitate” what Moses established as the annual Passover feast for the Israelites nearly 3,000 years ago, and then, what Jesus said and did at the Last Supper nearly 2,000 years ago. But the apostles and early Christians were bringing to mind a lot more than a “memory” when they gathered for the “breaking of the bread,” as the Mass was originally called. They were celebrating what the Church still calls, “the great Mystery of Faith.”

In 1521 the Protestant Rebellion began. Secular historians called this period of history in Europe “the Enlightenment.” More and more divisions were occurring in the communities that began breaking away from the “one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church founded by Jesus and sustained by the promised Holy Spirit of Truth. Ideologies called “rationalism” and “scientism” were on the rise. Protestant communities were especially vulnerable to the attitude, “If I can’t understand it and prove it with the scientific method, then I won’t believe it.” This same attitude has weakened the faith of many Catholic Christians. Hence the need for what our Bishops are calling, “Eucharistic Revival.”

Next week I will be using the Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC) to share how the Catholic Church has been confronting the attacks on her Deposit of Eucharistic Faith from the time of the Council of Trent to the present.

RENOVACIÓN EUCARÍSTICA (11) ¡HAGAN ESTO EN MI MEMORIA!

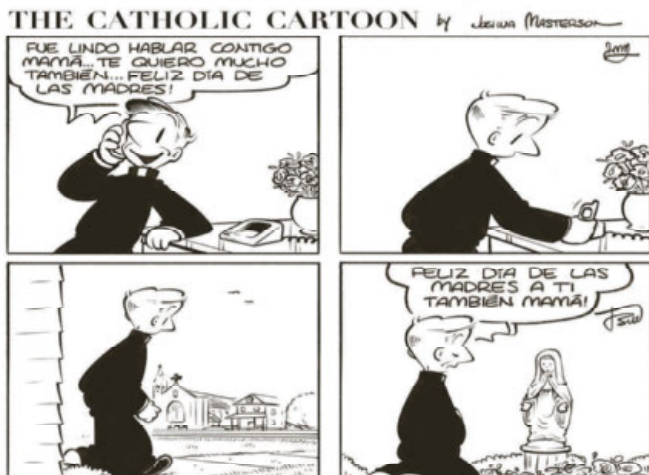

La exclamación anterior es nuestra traducción al inglés del mandato que Jesús dio a sus apóstoles en la Última Cena. Necesitamos reconocer que el significado ordinario de nuestras palabras en inglés, “en memoria de”, está muy lejos de transmitir el significado completo de las palabras hebreas originales que se referían al evento de la Pascua en el Libro del Éxodo (cf. Ex 13: 3). Cuando escuchamos “en memoria de”, generalmente pensamos en un significado como “recordar”, “se me viene a la mente” ó “imitar” lo que Moisés estableció como la fiesta anual de la Pascua para los israelitas hace casi 3000 años, y luego, lo que Jesús dijo e hizo en la Última Cena hace casi 2000 años. Pero lo que los apóstoles y los primeros cristianos recordaban era mucho más que una “memoria” cuando se reunían para la “repartición del pan”, como se llamaba originalmente a la Misa. Estaban celebrando lo que la Iglesia aún llama “el gran Misterio de la Fe”.

En 1521 comenzó la Rebelión protestante. Los historiadores seculares llamaron a este período de la historia en Europa “la Ilustración”. Cada vez se producían más divisiones en las comunidades que comenzaban a separarse de la “Única, Iglesia, santa, católica y apostólica, fundada por Jesús y sostenida por la promesa del Espíritu Santo de la Verdad. Ideologías como el “racionalismo” y “cientificismo” iban en aumento. Las comunidades protestantes fueron especialmente vulnerables a este movimiento: “Si no puedo entenderlo y probarlo con el método científico, entonces no lo creeré”. Esta misma actitud ha debilitado la fe de muchos cristianos católicos. De ahí la necesidad de lo que nuestros obispos llaman “Renovación Eucarística”.

La próxima semana usaré el Catecismo de la Iglesia Católica (CCC) para compartir cómo la Iglesia Católica ha estado enfrentando los ataques a su Imposición de la Fe Eucarística desde la época del Concilio de Trento hasta el presente.
