Eternal rest grant unto them O' Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon them. May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. — Amen

EUCHARISTIC REVIVAL (10) HOW HE IS MADE KNOWN TO US

Finally, the delight that Jesus experiences in crowning the work of redemption by instituting the Eucharist is expressed by his actually distributing his Body and Blood among those he loves in order that he may now live in them permanently, in a reciprocal interpenetration of being: He who eats my flesh and drinks my blood abides in me and I in him (Jn 6:56). Nothing could be more sublime, nothing more desirable, nothing more perfectly corresponding to the nature and longing of love.... The Incarnate Word always keeps his promises because he both can and wants to do so. In him, power and love are one, and for this reason his greatest joy and delight is a union of identity whereby everything that he is and has can be enjoyed by his disciples as well. It is not surprising then that in the section on Jesus the True Vine in his farewell speech at the Last Supper, the Lord declared, These things I have spoken to you, that my joy may be in you, and that your joy may be full (Jn 5:11).

It was for this precisely that Christ came among us. The act of imparting his own eternal life to us by means of his Eucharistic self-bestowal is the royal work by which he glorifies the Father: As the living Father sent me, and I live because of the Father, so he who eats me will live because of me (Jn 6:57). Just as self-communication among the Three Persons is the communal joy of the Blessed Trinity, so too is it Jesus' own joy to make that life of dynamically circulating love available to as many as accept it. There is nothing, nothing at all, that Jesus possesses from the Father and the Spirit that he does not want us to share with him. Such a statement is saying a great deal, indeed, about a person who is God! And so at the Last Supper, just before his death, Jesus prays to the Father: Now I am coming to you; and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy fulfilled in themselves (Jn 17:13). Jesus' joy is sharing his life with us in the consecrated Bread and Wine corresponds to the Father's joy in uttering the Word through whom and for whom all things were created in the beginning (Col 1:16). And Christ's own joy, divine though it is, is not fulfilled until it flows into the bloodstream of our Humble human existence.

(A meditation for the Third Sunday of Easter, by Erasmo Leiva-Merikakis, a Trappist monk, known as Father Simeon. Taken from the 2023 April English edition of Magnificat Magazine, pp. 257-258)

ALEGRÍA PASCUAL EUCARÍSTICA

CÓMO SE NOS DA A CONOCER

Finalmente, el gozo que experimenta Jesús al coronar la obra de la redención instituyendo la Eucaristía se expresa en el acto de distribuir su Cuerpo y su Sangre entre los que ama para que ahora pueda vivir en ellos permanentemente, en una interpenetración recíproca del ser: Él quien come mi carne y bebe mi sangre, permanece en mí y yo en él (Jn 6,56). Nada podría ser más sublime, nada más deseable, nada que corresponda más perfectamente con la naturaleza y con el anhelo del amor... El Verbo Encarnado siempre cumple sus promesas porque puede y quiere hacerlo. Para él, el poder y el amor son uno, y por eso su mayor alegría y deleite es una unión de identidad por la que todo lo que él es y puede ser disfrutado también por sus discípulos. No es de extrañar, entonces, que en la sección sobre Jesús, la Vida Verdadera, en su discurso de despedida en la Última Cena, el Señor declaró: Estas cosas os he hablado, para que mi gozo esté en vosotros, y vuestro gozo sea pleno. (Jn 5,11).

Precisamente para esto vino Cristo entre nosotros. El acto de impartirnos su propia vida eterna mediante su donación eucarística es la obra real por la que glorifica al Padre: Lo mismo que el Padre, que vive, me ha enviado y yo vivo por el Padre, también el que me coma vivirá por mí (Jn 6,57). Así como la auto-comunicación entre las Tres Personas es el gozo comunitario de la Santísima Trinidad, también lo es el propio gozo de Jesús al hacer que esa vida de amor que circula dinámicamente esté disponible para todos los que la acepten. No hay nada en absoluto, que Jesús posea del Padre y del Espíritu que no quiera que compartamos con él. ¡Tal declaración dice mucho, de hecho, acerca de una persona que es Dios! Y así en la Última Cena, justo antes de su muerte, Jesús ora al Padre: Pero ahora voy a ti, y digo estas cosas en el mundo para que tengan en sí mismos mi alegría colmada. (Jn 17:13). La alegría de Jesús de compartir su vida con nosotros en el Pan y el Vino consagrados corresponde a la alegría del Padre al pronunciar la Palabra por quien y para quien todas las cosas fueron creadas en el principio (Col 1,16). Y el propio gozo de Cristo, por divino que sea, no se cumple hasta que fluye en el torrente sanguíneo de nuestra humilde existencia humana.

(Una meditación para el Tercer Domingo de Pascua, de Erasmo Leiva-Merikakis, un monje trapense, conocido como Padre Simeón. Tomado de la edición en inglés de abril de 2023 de la revista Magnifica, pp. 257-258)
