PASTOR'S CORNER

Love Is Our Mission: The Family Fully Alive PART 6
(cont.) LIGHT IN A DARK WORLD. Why are pornography and masturbation immoral? (1) Isn't sexual pleasure something good and natural? (2) Isn't suppressing sexual desire unhealthy? (3) As long as sexual pleasure is sought in a way that does not violate the consent of another person, shouldn't it be legal and protected as a human right? Affirmative answers to these three questions by many individuals, by many in our judicial system, and by many in the mass media, have brought about a sexual revolution and a so-called "free and safe sex" mentality in Western culture at large. Nevertheless, the Catholic Church continues to teach, as it has from its very foundation, that pornography and masturbation are expressions of the sin of lust. Many have decided to reject the Church's teaching on sexual morality as old-fashioned and culturally conditioned. It is rare that topics on sexual morality are presented well or at all in short homilies. Therefore, many Catholics become vulnerable to the confusion and ignorance that swirl around the questions on sexual morality. The newspaper headlines recently stated that children should have a right to sex education in our public schools. This begs the question; what ought sex education include? Whose "truth" about sex ought to be taught? The following principle can help us understand what has gone wrong with secular understandings of human sexuality. It can also shine a light on how it can be corrected. The principle comes in the form of this quote from St. Teresa Benedicta of the Cross, formerly Edith Stein, a renowned Jewish philosophical thinker and writer, who became a convert to the Catholic Church and a Carmelite nun, and then died a martyr's death under Hitler in Auschwitz: "Beware of those who preach truth without love; and, beware of those who preach love without truth. Truth without love is not truth and love without truth is not love." St. Paul puts it this way, "Speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in every way into him who is the head, into Christ..." (Eph.4:15) Please ponder this. We will apply it to our questions on sexual morality in the Pastor's Corners to come.

Blessings, Fr. John

RINCÓN DEL PÁRROCO

El Amor Es Nuestra Misión – La Familia Plenamente Viva. Parte 6 (continuación) LUZ EN UN MUNDO OSCURO. ¿Por qué son inmorales la pornografía y la masturbación? (1) ¿No es el placer sexual algo bueno y natural? (2) ¿No es suprimir el deseo sexual saludable? (3) En la medida en que se busque el placer sexual de un modo que no viole el consentimiento de otra persona, ¿no debería ser legal y protegido como un derecho humano? En general, las respuestas afirmativas a estas tres preguntas por muchos individuos, por muchos en nuestro sistema judicial y por muchos en los medios de comunicación han provocado una revolución sexual y una mentalidad de supuesto “sexo libre y seguro” en la cultura occidental. Sin embargo, la Iglesia Católica, continúa enseñando, como lo ha hecho desde su fundación, que la pornografía y la masturbación son expresiones de pecado y lujuria. Muchos han decidido rechazar la doctrina de la Iglesia sobre la moralidad sexual como anticuada y culturalmente condicionada. Es raro que temas sobre la moralidad sexual sean bien presentados o que se presenten del todo en homilías cortas. Por lo tanto, muchos católicos son vulnerables a la confusión e ignorancia que giran alrededor de las preguntas sobre la moralidad sexual. Recientemente, titulares de periódicos declararon que los niños deberían de tener el derecho a la educación sexual en las escuelas públicas. Esto plantea la pregunta; ¿Qué debería incluir la educación sexual? ¿“La verdad de quien” sobre el sexo debería de enseñarse? El siguiente principio nos puede ayudar a entender que es lo que ha ido mal con los entendimientos seculares de la sexualidad humana. También puede brillar una luz de cómo se puede corregir. El principio viene en forma de cita de Santa Teresa Benedicta de la Cruz, quien antes era Edith Stein, una renombrada judía, pensadora y escritora filosófica, quien se convirtió a la Iglesia Católica y quien fue una monja Carmelita, y murió como mártir bajo Hitler en Auschwitz: “Guardaos de los que predicán la verdad sin amor; y, guardaos de los que predicán amor sin verdad. La verdad sin amor no es verdad y el amor sin verdad no es amor.” San Pablo lo dice de esta manera, “Viviendo con autenticidad el amor, crezcamos en todo hacia aquel que es la cabeza, Cristo...” (Efe. 4:15). Por favor reflexionen sobre esto. Lo aplicaremos a nuestras preguntas sobre la moralidad sexual en el siguiente Rincón del Párroco.

¡Bendiciones! P. John
